

Cilla Cameron

My husband and I have lived in Eckington for many years and our family was brought up in the village.

I am particularly concerned that people have a real choice of candidate at elections otherwise how can democracy work properly?

I support the building of homes to support local needs, but these must be affordable. Infrastructure is vitally important. It must be planned for and provided. I am dismayed to find that that Wychavon D.C. is allowing the planning of many hundreds of homes across our area without insisting that infrastructure must also be provided. This is the more disturbing since, in 2007, local Conservatives declared unambiguously that they would resist pressure for such building programmes, because, and I quote, '... will make health services weaker and cause more congestion on your roads.' I seek election so that I can be vigilant on behalf of us all.
